ABANDONING FAIR WILL BE BLESSING

So Says Subscriber in Letter to Sentinel—Exhibits Are Inspiration but Shows Prove Menace to Community.

Editor Sentinel:

May I be allowed a little space in your wonderful paper to express my sentiments and to state some facts concerning the abandonment of the annual fair?

The abandonment of the annual fair will prove one of the greatest blessings Grenada and Grenada County and the whole state of Mississippi have ever had. As for the agricultural, dairy, poultry and ladies' exhibits in all lines, that in itself is a great inspiration and a great help in its sphere, encouraging the farmers and helping them. But in connection with the fair, the shows that are contracted with to come and bring with them vice, disease and filth, and the cohorts of the underworld have proved a menace to the whole state and to the people as a whole who are attracted by the glare of the lights, noise of the ballyhoo and bedlam in general, that seduce and dupe.

It's not for the edification of the public but for the money, any way they can get it. Selling character, selling youth for money, which is a disgrace to a civilized country. The ones who do this are the rich society folks of the larger northern cities, who take this as a means of recreation three months in the year to make all the money they can from the poor laboring people, who think it is enjoyment, who will borrow or save back of their scanty earnings to go to the fair, and find in the end they have been duped and robbed. Not only that, filling the coffers of the already rich and have purchased maybe some disease that stays with them through life and at last destroys their soul. While those same show folks are basking in the sunshine of luxury in some coast resort for the winter, the poor people whose nose has been wrung, so to speak, are shivering from cold and hunger and can't pay honest grocery bills and coal bills. This decision seems to me to be answer to the prayer of the true Christians who have worked and prayed that these things be put to an end. The Lord works in a mysterious way. His wonders to perform. The mill of the gods grinds slowly but grinds small.

The fair ground is an ideal place for a factory, school or some enterprise that would be worth while and also a monument to Grenada and Grenada County.

One who has seen and heard and knows. A SUBSCRIBER, Grenada, Miss., Dec. 31, 1928.

W. H. JOINER IS DEAD

William Harmon Joiner, 64, died of pneumonia Thursday, Dec. 27th, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. T. E. Tribble, in Grenada where he had been visiting for several days. Funeral services were conducted the next day by Rev. J. H. Holder, pastor of the Methodist church, and interment was had in the cemetery at Prospect church in Carroll county where he had often expressed the desire to be buried. It was in that neighborhood that he spent his boyhood and it was there that he united with the church.

Mr. Joiner lived five miles southwest of Grenada. He was a frequent visitor to Grenada. He was a quiet and unassuming character and was man of a high sense of honor. He enjoyed the esteem of every good citizen who knew him. He was the father of seven children. Three sons and three daughters survive him and all of them have reached maturity. He was not financially able to give his children a college education but he did his best in giving them all the education the county schools afford. He also handed down to them a legacy of character and ideals worth far more to them than money. He was a good citizen, a kind neighbor and loyal friend.

To the sorrowing wife and children, The Sentinel extends its sincerest sympathy.

PAIR ADMITS THEFT OF BALE OF COTTON

Harvey Schmitz and N. B. Paxton, two young white men in jail charged with robbery, have made additional confessions that they stole some seed cotton from J. G. Weeks some weeks ago and they also admitted the theft of some automobile casings from W. D. Boone. The Sentinel was advised by City Marshal J. D. Crenshaw, who has been unusually successful in working up evidence against them. The cotton was ginned at Isola and was located there by the marshal this week. One of the automobile casings was also found in Isola and the others at Coffeeville.

Schmitz and Paxton, together with Lloyd Goad and Lloyd Frost, will face charges in circuit court for breaking into the store formerly operated by E. O. Pettigrew in the yard of Boone Cooperative Co.

GLEN THOMASON ILL WITH TENTH ATTACK PNEUMONIA

Thn Sentinel joins with his hundreds of other friends over the county in the prayers for the recovery of Glen D. Thomason, who is ill in Grenada Hospital with pneumonia. This is the tenth time that this disease has seized upon Mr. Thomason and the fact that he has successfully overcome its effects so many times in the past should serve as an encouragement in his fight against the present attack.

Mr. Thomason had a fairly good night Wednesday and was regarded Thursday morning as holding his own.

Mr. Thomason, who is serving Grenada county for a second term as chancery clerk, is known all over the county and he numbers his friends by the thousands. He is always affable, genial and pleasant and he has few, if any, equals anywhere for being accommodating and obliging.

The Sentinel hopes that its next issue may carry the news that he is improving and that he will soon be able to be out and about his duties again.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

The Sentinel but voices the sentiment of the community in hoping that he will soon be able to be out.

MISSISSIPPI COMMERCIAL TRUCK CROP REPORT

Gulfport, Miss., Dec. 31.—The estimated total value based on seasonal farm price of the principal commercial truck crops in Mississippi in 1928 is approximately $4,616,000, a decline of $2,161,000 from the 1927 farm value of $6,777,000 for the same crops. This large decline in value is due to the small returns from the 1928 tomato crop, which brought less than half the returns of the 1927 tomato crop.

The farm value of the 1928 to-

ONLY FOUR PAGES AGAIN

Owing to illness in our family as well as the illness of many others in Grenada which is tending to stifle business and tie up things generally, we are compelled to give our readers only four pages again this week. Many newspapers often issue only four pages, but The Sentinel dislikes to do so unless positively unavoidable.

The Management.

Grenada Suffers From Flu Epidemic

Few Families Escape Ravages of Disease that Is Sweeping Country—Health Authorities and Physicians Making Valiant Fight.

Grenada has not escaped the epidemic of flu which is prevalent all over the country. In many towns and cities, the schools have been closed by public order and all public gatherings prohibited. The health authorities in every state are putting in the best fight they can to stop the spread of the disease which is one of the most puzzling that ever confronted the medical profession. The disease seems to spread worse in mild weather.

There are many cases in Grenada. But few families thus far have escaped, and in many instances there have been several members of a household down at the same time. The doctors advise those with flu symptoms to go to bed at once and to remain indoors, seeking all the time to see that their rooms are well ventilated. The disease is no respecter of persons or families.

There are many cases throughout the county. Grenada doctors are busier than they have been for a long time while going often-times until late hours in the night. The Grenada Hospital is full. This hospital is a benediction to Grenada and surrounding territory. But for it, many who have received medical and surgical attention here would have had to go to Memphis or elsewhere and at much greater cost besides the increased anxiety of the family of the sick ones because of their being so far from home.

The public schools of Grenada are running as usual, however, there are many children out.

NEGRO DROWNS WEDNESDAY WHEN TRUCK OVERTURNS

Gage Peacock, negro, 45, share cropper on the place of Supervisor W. W. Whitaker, of the Osberry community, west of Grenada, was drowned Wednesday at noon when the truck he was driving left the highway on the curve east of the overhead bridge, three miles west of Grenada. The truck was proceeding at a slow rate of speed and had crossed the bridge when something went wrong with the steering mechanism, causing it to leave the embankment. Peacock was pinned under the truck in about one foot of water and was drowned before he could be extricated. Two other negroes who were also on the truck were uninjured.

BOY SCOUTS TROOP 29

The scouts had their meeting Friday, at the Masonic Temple. Since our scoutmaster, Mr. Emerson, is moving to Gulfport, we don't know who will be our next scoutmaster. Mr. Emerson is going to divide the scout library among the boys. All scouts are wanted at the meeting next Friday.

Signed Troop Scribe, Leon Siegel.

mato crop is estimated at $2,362,000, and represents about 51 per cent of the total valuation of the principal commercial truck crops produced in Mississippi in 1928. The 1927 tomato crop, however, brought returns of approximately $4,793,000, which represented about 71 per cent of the total returns from the principal truck crops grown. Snap beans for table consumption and canning were next in farm value, having an estimated value of $670,000 in 1928, compared with $498,000 in 1927; cabbage had an estimated farm value in 1928 of $628,000, compared with $474,000 in 1927; green peas $278,000 compared with $267,000; strawberries $270,000 compared with $192,000; early Irish potatoes $197,000 compared with $173,000; carrots $136,000 compared with $309,000; watermelons $59,000 compared with $55,000; and peppers $26,000 in 1928 compared with $16,000 in 1927. The above values cover truck crops grown for shipment, and do not include vegetables grown for home consumption or local sale.

In point of gross value per acre in 1928, strawberries ranked first with an estimated gross value per acre of $270; cabbage was next with a value per acre of $250; tomatos $140; green peas $126; early Irish potatoes $101; snap beans $86; carrots $78; peppers $64; and watermelons $42. For all truck crops estimated the gross value per acre was approximately $129 in 1928, compared with $208 per acre in 1927.

The total estimated acreage of these crops for the 1928 season is 35,770 acres, compared with 32,550 acres in 1927.

MURDERER-ABDUC- TOR MOBBED MONDAY

Convict Slayer of Penitentiary Sergeant and Abductor of Dead Man's Daughter Pays for Crime on Funeral Pyre.

Parchman, Miss., Dec. 28.—J. D. Duvall, 55 or 60 years old and the father of eight children, was found slain on the floor of the dining room of his home early this morning when Mrs. Duvall investigated his absence. His throat had been slashed by a butcher knife and his head beaten in with a hammer and ice pick. The weapons were lying nearby.

Mrs. Duvall called to her daughter, a high school student, and receiving no response, went to her room. Her bed had been occupied and on a dressing table was found a letter she had written to a friend last evening and a book she had been reading, but the girl was missing. There were blood stains on the bed, which L. T. Fox, superintendent of the state penitentiary, said appeared to have been caused by a bloody finger drawn across it.

Fox believed that Shepherd, 41 years old, serving a 20 year sentence for manslaughter, entered the Duvall home to do violence to Miss Duvall, and that her father, hearing a noise, investigated and was killed by the negro.

Fox's theory is that Shepherd then proceeded to the young woman's room and carried her away. An airplane circled for several hours over the farm area, but no trace of the negro or the girl was found.

Mrs. Duvall, the only other occupant of the house, is deaf and heard no disturbance. She arose about 3:30 a. m. thinking it was almost daylight, and went to call her husband.

Missing him, she went downstairs and stumbled over his body. Fox's theory that the sergeant was investigating a noise was based on the fact that he had arisen from bed, hurriedly put on a pair of slippers and an overcoat, and gone downstairs.

He believed the murder was committed about half an hour before the body was discovered.

Shepherd had been assigned to the Duvall home a few months ago as houseboy and cook. He had been at the farm since 1921, having been convicted in Bolivar county.

Two negroes who lived with him in a cabin back of the Duvall home said that when they went to bed about 9:30 last night Shepherd was shaving.

Parchman, Miss., Dec. 29.—Miss Ruth Duvall, aged 18, said today that Charles Shepherd, a negro convict, abducted her early yesterday at the point of a gun from her home on the state prison farm here, and when she stumbled over the body of her murdered father in the dining room he told her "that's what is going to happen to you if you try to get away."

The girl stumbled into prison camp No. 9, six miles from her home, this morning. She was scratched and bruised and highly nervous. She said she was awakened about 2:00 a. m. yesterday by Shepherd, who held a rifle to her head and forced her to dress. She asked to get a drink of water and he allowed her to leave the room. She went after her father and finding him gone screamed. The negro then ran after her, she said, and showed her her father's body on the floor. His throat was cut and his head beaten. Miss Duvall said the negro then forced her to walk barefooted through the woods until last night, when he pointed out a house and told her to go there and wait for him. He left then and she circled around and found another house, occupied by two sick negro women. She remained there until this morning when one of the women accompanied her to the camp. The marks of the negro's hands were found on her neck.

Parchman, Miss., Dec. 31.—Near the scene where he freed pretty Ruth Duvall, 18 year old daughter of Prison Sergeant J. D. Duvall, after mistreating her on a 30 hour forced march over Parchman plantation, Charles Shepherd, 41, negro trusty, tonight paid for his crime.

He was tied to a heap of logs, his body saturated with gasoline and burned. The execution took place at 7:45 p. m., between Camp 11 and Rome.

The burning was just off state property. He was captured today single handed by Miss Laura Mae Keeler, on her plantation, seven miles from Shelby.

Shepherd was taken after the greatest manhunt in the Mississippi delta and his execution on Camp 11 tonight was with the same calm, cool deliberation that the search has been carried on since early Friday morning when Mrs. Duvall awoke to find her husband fiendishly murdered and her daughter missing.

More than 200 cars filled with grim delta men armed to the hilt with rifles and pistols followed the car bearing the self confessed murderer. Many of the men in the

DIES PNEUMONIA

Influenza pneumonia claimed the life of W. W. Roberts, 40, who passed away at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the Grenada Hospital. The remains were forwarded Thursday to his former home in Burnsville, Miss. for interment.

Mr. Roberts was employed in the sawmill business at Elliott where he had made scores of friends, all of whom mourn his demise.

Grenada College Gets $300,000 Endowment

Board Issues $300,000 in Bonds to Place Methodist Institution in List of Fully Accredited Colleges. Churches to Retire Bonds.

At its recent meeting, the North Mississippi Conference, owner of Grenada College, ordered its Board of Education to incorporate and issue $300,000 in 6% bonds for the endowment of the college. Under the leadership of Judge Percy Bell, the committee appointed secured the charter, issued the bonds and Tuesday turned them over to the executive committee of the trustees of the college, R. W. Sharp, treasurer. This handsome addition to the endowment funds is expected to place Grenada College in the list of fully accredited standard colleges of the south, other conditions having already met with approval.

To care for the interest and principal of the bond issue, the conference levied an assessment of $24,000 per annum on the churches within its bounds. This is an increase of only $6,000 on the special assessment for the support of the college heretofore carried by the churches and the plan for making the endowment permanent has awakened new enthusiasm among the Methodists of this section for their college for young women. It is understood that a considerable portion of the bonds have already been subscribed for by friends of the institution.

President J. R. Countiss, stated Tuesday that there was little evidence of the flu epidemic among the students before the holidays and that he expected all to be back in the dormitories, ready for work to begin on the 3rd of January.

PRISONER REPENTS

Dear Friends:

As the new year is nearly here and the old year is almost gone. And I want to write to you friends who paper and tell you friends how sorry I am of my trouble, but as the old saying is it is to late now I am a prisoner in the Grenada jail and have been ever since the 19 of October. But can say I am treated nice by Mr. and Mrs. Tribble and Mr. Nason is so good to me. I am a trusty and am thankful of that. How often have mother and father told me what bad company would get me into. Now I see and let me tell you people it has learnt me a lesson. I was raised by a good father and mother and they tried to raise me right. But you all know bad company can ruin anyone. I have prayed to God for forgiveness and I want to say I am so sorry that I have let this trouble happen and when I am a free man from this I will never be guilty of any things else like this. I have a wife and sweet little girl I hope to be at home with soon. I pray for the people to help me all they can.

May God help me.

COTTON REPORT

There were 8,756 bales of cotton, counting round as half bales, ginned in Grenada County, from the crop of 1928 prior to December 13, 1928, as compared with 6,768 bales ginned to December 13, 1927.

mob have been on the manhunt since its inception early Friday morning.

The mob succeeded in taking the negro from Miss Keeler, Trusty John Sullivan, a Mr. Cooper of Jackson, Miss., and an unidentified man after a chase that extended over three counties in an effort to elude the mob and turn the prisoner over to military authorities who took charge of the Parchman plantation last night under the command of Adj. Gen. J. M. Hairston.

The negro confessed his crime and admitted that he assaulted Miss Duvall's person while she was in bed. Her fight and struggles against her assailant is what no doubt aroused her father. The fact that the negro was a trusty, and that he was given kind treatment in the Duvall home where he was cook and houseman, stamps his crime as one of the darkest in the history of the state.

Miss Keeler, his captor, did her best to protect him from execution by a mob. When he was taken from her, he pleaded "pitifully," as she stated, for her not to leave him. Miss Keeler wanted the law to take its course and no doubt felt that the circumstances of his surrender to her made it her duty to get him to a place of safety.

The negro showed no sympathy for Mr. Duvall and his pretty daughter whose life he has probably wrecked.

BLACK NICKLE DIES FROM INJURIES IN ACCIDENT

Jack Nickle, 27 years old, died Friday morning, Dec. 28th, as the result of injuries received when his automobile overturned near Batesville, where he had gone to spend the Christmas holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Nickle. His death occurred on the train en route to Memphis where he was being taken to the hospital. Funeral services were held in Batesville Saturday afternoon and were attended by quite a few from Grenada.

Mr. Nickle had been in Grenada for about two years. He came here first as a clerk in Dyre-Kent Drug Store and he later was one of those who opened a drug business on Green Street, catering to the colored trade. He was a quiet, unassuming young man and had won for himself many friends in Grenada, all of whom are grieved over his death. He knew how to meet the public, he was tactful, he was polite, he was accommodating and all these qualities were backed by good common sense, together with the highest integrity.

Mr. Nickle was a nephew of Mrs. George R. Grant, of Grenada. To his parents, two brothers and two sisters and other loved ones who mourn The Sentinel extends its deepest sympathy.

MRS. FANNIE HIGHTOWER DIES IN STATE HOSPITAL

Mrs. Fannie Hightower died on the night of Dec. 28th in the Mississippi State Hospital at Jackson where she had been for some time for treatment and her remains were brought to Grenada the next day. Interment was in Woodlawn Memorial Park Saturday afternoon after funeral services conducted from Garner Brothers funeral home by Revs. W. E. Farr and J. H. Holder, pastors of the First Baptist and the Methodist churches, respectively.

Mrs. Hightower's home was in the Fulteyville community, just east of Grenada. She was 44 years of age. She was a member of the Baptist church and had endeavored to live up to the teachings of her faith. She was a good neighbor, true friend and a devoted mother.

Surviving are two grown daughters, Mrs. C. A. Wright, of Greenwood, Miss. Viola Hightower, of Grenada, and four small children, Velma, Edgar, Lucile and Bernice Hightower, who are now living with their sister in Greenwood.

To these The Sentinel extends its sympathy.

FLU HITS ROTARY CLUB

With nearly one-third of its members confined to their beds with the flu, attendance at Tuesday's meeting of the Grenada Rotary club was not so good. The president of the club, Andrew Carothers, was present but was just up from a sick bed and he therefore turned his gavel over to John Rundle, vice-president, for the meeting.

Roland W. Jones made a detailed report of the trip of several Grenadians to Pine Bluff, Ark. last Friday to inspect the airport at that place and he was followed by J. E. Shaw, Jr., who stated that several places near Grenada were in view for the location of a flying field here. He urged his fellow Rotarians to give deep consideration to the project, pointing out the necessity for the town providing a suitable place for airplane landing.

David Young Duhard, who was a guest at the luncheon, expressed his pleasure at being with the Rotarians.

The club unanimously instructed John Rundle to write a letter or commendation, on behalf of the club, to Charles LeDuke for the splendid record he is making in Millsaps College at Jackson, where he is a student.

WRIGHT BUYS INTEREST IN CLARENCE SAUNDERS STORE

N. N. Wright, of Sardis, has purchased from G. C. Brannon, operator of the Clarence Saunders Store in Grenada, the major portion of his interest in the business, and expects to take active charge on or about Jan. 10th. Mr. Wright is a man of many years of successful business experience behind him and he should experience little difficulty in being equally successful here. He has leased from Mr. Brannon the new building fast nearing completion on Main Street just north of the First Baptist Church.

Mr. Brannon, who retains a small interest in the business, expects to spend several months resting. He has worked unceasingly in the building up of the store and is entitled to some vacation. The Sentinel hopes that he will enter some business that will keep him and his excellent wife in Grenada and in this hope the entire community joins.

SOME REAL WINTER AGAIN THIS WEEK

The mild weather that usually follows Christmas was succeeded by a touch of real winter Tuesday. There was a heavy drop in the thermometer, and it continued cold through Thursday. Thursday morning the mercury registered 22 degrees or 10 degrees below freezing.

ELABORATE AIRPORT SEEN BY GRENADIANS

Eleven Local Citizens Inspect New Flying Field at Pine Bluff, Ark. Friday—According Royal Welcome.

J. T. Thomas, R. W. Jones, W. B. Hoffa, B. J. Anderson, J. H. Murray, L. E. Thrash, J. H. James, H. L. Honeycutt, W. W. Whitaker, J. E. Shaw, Jr., and G. M. Lawrence, the eleven Grenada county citizens who spent last Friday in Pine Bluff, Ark., inspecting that city's new airport, were highly pleased with what they saw and learned. They could not have received a more hospitable reception anywhere for while the Grenadians were there, the time of the Pine Bluff mayor, Judge Toney, for whom the field is named, L. Garrett, president of the airport, and the gentleman who promoted its building and who has charge of its financing, and Col. Frank R. Allen, chief engineer for the airport and actively in charge of its management, was wholly theirs. They are all elegant gentlemen and each seemed to try to outdo the other in making the visitors feel at home.

Pine Bluff rightly calls itself the "air capital" of Arkansas. Its airport represents an investment of approximately a quarter-million dollars and its promoters are supreme in their confidence that their investment is going to bring them adequate financial returns. Everything about the field is claimed to be the last word in airport construction. The field, 212 acres, is 1 1/2 miles due north of the city and is just a few minutes' drive from the heart of the business district. The field is rectangular in shape and its center is marked by a 200-foot circle with an 8-foot band and the main hangar is marked so that identification is easy from the air. Roofs of buildings in the city are marked with the name of the town and arrows pointing to the landing field. Wind indicators on the field enable fliers to easily determine the direction from which to approach. The elaborate service station, besides supplying fuel for planes, caters to the automobile trade as well. From all sales of the station, the airport receives its commission or percentage.

An elaborate clubhouse, the Pine Bluff Airport Club, is fast nearing completion and it is the last word in elegance. It is maintained by a membership of 150, whose quarterly dues provide for its upkeep and maintenance and pay the interest on the investment. The club house provides meals and accommodations for visiting aviators, enabling them to land at Pine Bluff without having to leave the field. The administration building has on its roof a meteorological station and a battery of projectors which constitute the secondary lighting system for the field. The primary lights are scattered about the field. Every building carries obstruction lights.

The airport keeps a register of visiting airmen and officials, state that an average of about three daily was shown by this register.

Those from Grenada who made the trip are convinced that Grenada should have an airport. Of course, they realize that Grenada can have nothing so elaborate as the one viewed in Pine Bluff, a city seven times the size of Grenada. They see that the town should take some definite steps toward the building of an airport here and it is to be hoped that some good will come out of the trip.

FORD TRI-MOTORED PLANE COMES HERE AT EARLY DATE

Grenada will soon hear the pleasing purr of the three Wright Whirlwind motors that power the Ford Tri-Motored All-Metal Monoplane which will be making regular sightseeing trips over the city during a short stay here.

The local Ford dealers have sponsored the bringing of this giant airliner to this city so that those who have a desire to view their city and the surrounding country from a height of two thousand feet may do so with perfect safety.

A. J. McCaslin, local Ford dealer, explains that there is no unpleasant sensation in riding in this plane, inasmuch as the plane is perfectly balanced and the pilot Ray Loomis, formerly on the staff of pilots at the Ford Airport at Detroit is extremely careful and a past master when it comes to handling the Ford ship. The flights that will be made over the city will be a demonstration of the ease and comfort with which one may now travel in the air.

SUFFERED 15 YEARS; THEN FOUND SARGON

Memphis Woman, Age 80,
Tells of Wonderful Restoration to Health Through New Medicine.

"I hadn't enjoyed good health for fifteen long years, but now, thanks to Sargon, I am a well woman."

"During all those years I suffered from nervous indigestion, with all the disagreeable symptoms that go with this distressing condition. I could not eat meats of any kind. I was told that I had high blood pressure. I had dreadful attacks of headache and my nerves were so upset that I couldn't get a good night's sleep. My liver was sluggish and I was continually taking laxatives and other medicines, but all I ever got was a little temporary relief. I was dreadfully weak and run-down."

"Sargon has helped me wonderfully. I now eat anything I want without having indigestion. My nerves are in perfect condition and my sleep is sound and restful. But, the best thing about it all is the way Sargon strengthened me. I have gained fifteen pounds since I started it."

"I have been taking Sargon Soft Mass Pills too, and they are an ideal laxative - especially for people of advanced age like myself. They are so mild in action and do not shock the system like most all other laxatives. They are thorough and dependable."

"Sargon is the grandest medicine in all my experience and deserves every word of the good things everybody is saying about it."

The above remarkable statement was made a few days ago by Mrs. Johanna Bent, well known and highly esteemed resident of 931 Jehl Place, Memphis. Although eighty years of age, Mrs. Bent is an active worker in the Lutheran Church and now takes a keen interest in every day affairs as a woman half her age.

Sargon may be obtained in Grenada from the Corner Drug Store.

MOB LAW ALWAYS UNFORTUNATE.

The taking of the law into the hands of private citizens, regardless of how many they are or who they be, is always unfortunate for a community.

Charley Shepherd, the negro who killed Sergeant Duvall and then outraged and kidnapped his 18 year old daughter, on Parchman state farm last Friday night, deserved no sympathy or pity. He committed one of the darkest, most dastardly and heinous crimes that ever darkened the records of the state. The negro was a "trusty". He evidently enjoyed the confidence of the family because they made him cook and house boy. But it is unfortunate that he met death at the hands of a mob, and particularly in the manner that he did. We can well understand how members of the Duvall family and immediate relatives felt. It was but natural that they should want him to expiate his crime without any regard as to how death was meted out to him. But the state of Mississippi was concerned in the disposition of the case. The law which is designed to protect the weak and the strong, the high and the low, directs the course to be pursued in all instances, and when law is trampled under foot, the whole commonwealth is hurt to a greater or less extent. Let it be hoped that the negro's fate may be a lesson to all demon-minded men, and that the necessity for men to gather by the hundreds to search for criminals may diminish with the passing days.

From press reports, it appears that towards the closing days of December, a few men took the law into their hands and executed a negro by the name of McCallum at Hattiesburg for what seems to have been a trivial charge, and even after he had been subjected to a trial before a justice of the peace in another county. Hundreds of citizens of Hattiesburg met and condemned the action of the mob and asked for the court to be convened in special term to investigate the killing of the negro. The circuit judge called the grand jury in session at once and the matter is now pending. Even if the negro was guilty of what he was charged with, it lacked a very great deal of being a capital offense, if what the press reports state be true.

The remedy for such affairs as herein referred to is for men to get a better hold of themselves and to strive to be better poised, and for those of criminal minds to understand that they cannot escape paying the penalty for bloody deeds.

"Be sure your sins find you out" is a passage of Scripture that we all might ponder over more.

"Vengeance is mine, I will repay, saith the Lord"

PROSECUTOR'S SALARY SHOULD BE RESTORED.

We hope that the board of supervisors will rescind at its January meeting its order cutting the salary of the county prosecuting attorney. The salary that had been paid the holder of this office was already pitifully small and the reduction places it at an even smaller figure.

This paper did not favor creating the office of county prosecuting attorney, but now we believe it is a necessity.

The county prosecuting attorney's office in Grenada county has more than been worth the money it has cost. The justice courts have kept him busy in recent years and the circuit courts have required considerable of his time. The office has not paid the holder too much salary and we believe the board will do wisely to restore the paid to where it was before the cut—$900 annually.

The legislature provided that the open season on quail may be extended to February 1st by the supervisors of the various counties. Only a few hunters in Grenada county have enjoyed much bird hunting this season and we hope that our board at its meeting next week will see fit to extend the season through this month.

DELINQUENT POLL TAX LIST TO BE PUBLISHED

I would remind the citizens of Grenada County, and particularly those who are concerned with paying Poll Taxes, that the law now requires that the sheriff publish the list of those who have not paid their poll tax on or before Feb. 1. Many are careless about paying poll taxes except at a general state election. The sheriff has no choice in the matter. We feel sure that it would embarrass many good people to have their names listed with those who are so careless about the duties of citizenship. Another thing about poll taxes that concerns everybody is that the poll tax fund goes to the schools; the more poll taxes collected the more money there is for the education of the children.

Don't wait until Feb. 1; the office cannot wait on everybody in one day.

F. S. NASON,
Sheriff and Tax Collector of Grenada County,
Grenada, Miss., Jan. 4, 1929.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS

The recent extraordinary session of the legislature enacted several laws of interest to taxpayers among which are several features I want to call your especial attention to.

Instead of beginning my work of assessing taxes on Feb. 1st, as has heretofore been the custom, the work of assessing begins one month earlier, on Jan. 1st. This means that you will be assessed on what you own on the first of the year and you should take due notice thereof in filling in your assessment blanks.

Every tax payer is required to make out his personal tax list and too, must give in property which deliver it to the tax assessor not later than the first of April, and sooner if demanded. Taxpayers, they have in charge as agent or otherwise. Much property that is with dealers or agents on consignment will be listed under this feature.

I hope that you will cooperate with me in carrying out the provisions of the law and that you will list your property promptly when blanks are given you.

Respectfully,
W. H. CROWDER, Tax Assessor,
Grenada County, Mississippi,
Grenada, Miss., Jan. 2, 1929.

Whose Railroads?

The service performed by the railroads of this country in 1928 was of unquestioned excellence. Business was unhindered by any handicap of inadequate or sluggish railway service. The last year also witnessed continued and improved efficiency and economy in railway performance.

The railroads enter the new year with a splendid record of accomplishment on behalf of the public. In looking ahead, however, one grave danger is seen. That is the danger that the continued depression of railway earnings may render the railroads unable to provide fully satisfactory service.

The men who direct the management of American railroads are frankly concerned over that prospect. Business men ought to be concerned about it, too.

Business men have an important stake in the efficiency and progress of the railroads. The railroads exist for no other purpose than to serve them, and railway service is indispensable to them.

The railroads are customers for vast quantities of material, equipment and supplies. The wages they pay their employees are spent for the things business men make and sell. Their taxes diminish the tax burden which business men would otherwise have to bear. Their earnings are paid to their owners, including many business men directly and all business men indirectly.

If, in the light of these facts, the railroads are not the business men's railroads, whose railroads are they? Where shall the railroads look for assistance in the solution of their problems, if not to the business men of the country?

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

SORE Could Not Rest

Mrs. J. H. Nichols, who lives at 513 Elm Tree Lane, Lexington, Ky., says:

"Some few years ago, my health was bad. I had very severe pains in my sides. My nerves were in a terrible condition. I could not rest."

"The lower part of my body was very sore. I did not feel like eating, and did not sleep well at all at nights."

"A friend of mine recommended Cardui. I began taking it and saw quite an improvement in my condition. I kept it up until I felt strong and well."

About a year ago, Mrs. Nichols says, she found herself in a nervous, run-down condition. "I took Cardui again," she adds, "and it helped me wonderfully. It is a splendid tonic."

Cardui is a mild, medicinal tonic, made from purely vegetable ingredients.

WHEN IT LOOKS DARK to any weak, nervous or ailing woman, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription comes to her aid. Women in every walk of life today say Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a reliable medicine. It is made from roots and herbs, sold by druggists, in both fluid and tablets.

Miss Mary Alice Tolst of Jonestown, Miss., said: "I suffered for several years with my back and pains under my shoulder blades, also functional disturbance. I had gas on my stomach all the time, was weak, nervous and had dizzy headaches. I could not join in the sports and games with other girls—always felt blue. My complexion was swarthy and covered with pimples. I took different medicines but they didn't do any good. Finally I wrote to Dr. Pierce and was advised to take 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I did, and felt like a different person."

A new BRAKETESTING Service for all motorists

You Spend a great deal to make your car go—
Why not invest a little to make it stop?

Four Gauges show you the exact proportion of braking power on each wheel.

IT'S the power to stop, not the power to go, that's most important—yet motorists renew spark plugs, change motor oil every few hundred miles, recharge batteries and have motors tuned up—with only one thought in mind—Power to Go.

It takes only one skid—one emergency in which brakes fail to hold to cause an accident. It might be slight—perhaps a jammed fender—and it might cost a life.

Why not be sure your brakes are in perfect adjustment—ready to meet the unexpected emergency? Nothing is so directly responsible to your safety as brakes—keep them in good condition.

JUMBO BRAKE TESTER

Use this Service

Our JUMBO Brake Tester immediately reveals the true condition of your brakes. The percentage of braking power on each wheel is simultaneously recorded on their respective gauges. Brake action thus recorded should be equalized or perfectly balanced.

If your brakes are weak or uneven we can quickly set them in perfect balance. The JUMBO Brake Tester checks every change of adjustment until perfection is reached. Perfect balance of brakes not only assures quick stopping but also eliminates the dangers of skidding and pulling to one side.

Cooperate with the nation-wide "Save a Life" Campaign by having your brakes tested now.
